

Coaching the Inside Veer

The Inside Veer is the most explosive play in football. It offers three potential ball carriers attacking three separate areas of the defense. By doing so it threatens the defense all the way to the sideline. Coaching the Inside Veer breaks down the essential skills that each player must master and gives drills that will teach these skills. The book also highlights the adjustments modern defenses are using to stop the Inside Veer and how to exploit these adjustments. Clean Coaching looks to provide coaches with the essential information about their sport. At Clean Coaching we focus on providing a product that is quick, clean and concise with all of the information that coaches need but none of the fluff and filler material that drive prices up.
